

Master of Education With Concentration

Psychological Studies

36 credits — Non-licensure

PSYCHOLOGICAL STUDIES is a non-licensure graduate program that introduces students to a broad range of psychological perspectives, with a strong commitment to an evolving multicultural society.

Careers — Graduates may be eligible for advancement in human service careers that do not require licensure.

Learning Outcomes — Students are exposed to the principles of counseling. They learn about assessment, resources, cultural and racial dynamics, roles on interdisciplinary teams, ethics and relevant laws. They learn about small group dynamics and processes and how leadership styles influence group process. Students have flexibility to choose courses to support their particular interests in the field.

Professional Seminar & Research credits

CCP691-693 Professional Seminar — 3 terms @ 2 credits6
CCP800 Independent Research Project — taken with Seminar III . . .3

Workshops (no courses may be substituted)

CCP590 two workshops @ 1 credit.2

Counseling Psychology Courses

CCP501 Introduction to Counseling1
CCP540 Personality & Counseling Theory3
CCP550 Basic Counseling Skills: Rogerian Therapy3
CCP650 Group Dynamics/Group Counseling & Human Systems 3

Five 3-credit Elective Courses 15

Graduate level electives must be chosen with approval of faculty advisor/professional seminar leader. Four elective courses must be in Counseling Psychology; one may be in any field.

