Cambridge College Gold Sponsor of UN Consuls Ball

CAMBRIDGE— Cambridge College is investing in the effort to expand global education. The College is the Gold Sponsor of the United Nations Association of Greater Boston's Consuls Ball to Benefit Global Classrooms at 7 p.m. on April 27th at the Fairmont Copley Plaza Hotel in Boston.

The Global Classroom curriculum benefits middle and high school students in Boston area schools. It engages students in an interactive educational experience that engenders tolerance and cooperative spirit and brings Model United Nations into the classroom through a series of class sessions that teach negotiation, communication, research and conflict resolution skills. The Consuls Ball is a tribute to the Consular Corps of Boston and a celebration of the rich diversity of the nations and cultures around the world and in Boston. The Consular Corps in Boston represents the local and regional representatives of more than 45 countries—all UN member states—who serve the citizens of their nations. They work to facilitate changes for business, education, and pleasure as well as to foster technological transfer, economic development, and international understanding.

Cambridge College is dedicated to providing academically excellent, time-efficient, and cost-effective higher education for a diverse population of working adults for whom those opportunities may have been limited or denied. In addition to our main campus in Cambridge and six regional centers across the United States, Cambridge College has begun to extend its mission to countries like China, India, Brazil and Barbados in an effort to provide quality education to those who would otherwise not have the opportunity.

R.D. Sahl of New England Cable News will serve as the evening's Master of Ceremonies. Mr. Sahl will present Leadership Awards to Dr. Barry Bloom, Dean of the Harvard Business School who has been involved in the World Health Organization for over 30 years, and Mikko Nissinen, who is internationally recognized as an accomplished dancer, teacher, and artistic director. The event is Black Tie and National Dress. There will be a silent auction beginning at 7 p.m. followed by dinner and dancing. Raffle prizes include a trip for two to Brittany, France or St. Petersburg, Russia. For more information, visit the United Nations of Greater Boston website www.unagb.org.

Founded in 1971, Cambridge College is a private, non-profit institution dedicated to providing academically excellent, time-efficient, and cost-effective higher education for a diverse population of working adults for whom those opportunities may have been limited or denied.
