Dr. Clark Abt to be Honored as Distinguished Professor of Management at Cambridge College

CAMBRIDGE— Cambridge College's newest professor is a multi-talented entrepreneur with a strong social conscience. Dr. Clark Abt, founder and former president of Abt Associates, will be honored for his new role as a Distinguished Professor of Management at Cambridge College on Tuesday, May 8th at 5:30 p.m. at 1000 Massachusetts Avenue in Cambridge.

Dr. Abt, who has spent the last five years researching biological and nuclear terrorism and the threat of emerging pandemic diseases, has several plans for his role as a Distinguished Professor in the School of Management. His ideas include future courses in evaluation research and comparative public health in different countries, both of which Dr. Abt thinks Cambridge College students would find useful.

Dr. Abt served as Chairman of the Board of Directors of Abt Associates from 1986 to 2005, when he was elected Chairman Emeritus. The author of ten books on social and economic policies and advanced technologies, as well as many articles, Dr. Abt has been an Associate at the Belfer Center for Science and International Affairs at Harvard University and has also taught at Boston University and Johns Hopkins University. For the last six years he has served pro bono in full- and part-time capacities as a high school teacher and tutor for students at risk in the Boston public schools.
