Cambridge College to Host Enrollment Extravaganza

SPRINGFIELD—Cambridge College, a member of the Springfield community for 35 years, is showing the public that the College is stronger than ever. The Cambridge College Springfield Regional Center is hosting an Enrollment Extravaganza at 5:30 p.m. on Tuesday, August 7th at the College's Springfield Regional Center, 570 Cottage Street.

“This event is a fun way for the community to learn about Cambridge College and all of the unique programs we have to offer,” said Patricia Crutchfield, Director of the Springfield Regional Center.

“The Extravaganza will be an excellent way to kick off the upcoming academic semester.”

The Enrollment Extravaganza will showcase several of Cambridge College's academic programs, including the Master of Education degree and the Psychology and Counseling degree programs, which will both feature an “Ask the Licensure Expert” table, while the Cambridge College School of Management will demonstrate the AdaptNet program, the College's adaptive blended learning system for Master of Management degree students. The Undergraduate College will also be represented at the event. The Extravaganza will feature a live broadcast from 94.7 WMAS, a student panel, and plenty of networking opportunities. Current Cambridge College students, alumni and representatives from local businesses will be on hand to answer questions and speak with guests as they enjoy food, fun and entertainment. Cambridge College is also waiving application fees for students who apply to the College at the event.
