

THE SCHOOL OF MANAGEMENT INTERNSHIP INFORMATION SESSIONS

Are you interested in an Internship?

The School of Management has established an internship program for students hoping to test their newly acquired competences and pave the way for their careers. Hands-on knowledge is just as important as the chance to learn about new developments and technical skills in the changing business environment. Gaining experience, finding the right industry, developing skill sets, and meeting the right people that might offer you a job after graduation are all the possible outcomes of the right internship.

Why Consider an Internship?

Recent surveys show that employers offer full-time employment to more than a half of their interns. They are also willing to negotiate higher salaries for those who have undertaken an internship. The belief is that those students who have chosen an internship position have a more realistic and less idealized view of management as they have had the chance to put into practice what they have learned at school in a work environment. Moreover, an internship offers the opportunity to establish new contacts, mentors and references, acquire recommendations from business executives and, in the best-case scenario, land your dream job.
