

Bachelor of Science

Managerial Accounting

• CIP code 520201 • 120 credits •

Program Description

The Bachelor of Science in Managerial Accounting gives students the skills and academic background to work in managerial accounting, and to sit for the Institute of Managerial Accountants' (IMA) Certified Managerial Accountant (CMA) examination*. The curriculum focuses on the practical skills and knowledge-base which the IMA has identified as essential to the field, and these learning outcomes and coursework are directly aligned with the practical experience and academic requirements of the CMA certification examination. Graduates will be well prepared to work in this exciting and growing field, with both the knowledge and application-based training to make important institutional decisions based on sound financial principles.

*Full IMA certification requires an earned bachelor's degree in finance, accounting or economics, successful passing of the CMA exam, and two years of documented work experience in preparation of financial statements, financial planning and analysis, auditing (external or internal), budget preparation and reporting, corporate investment decision making, or costing analysis (this experience requirement can be earned prior to, or within 7 years of passing the CMA examination).

Program Outcomes

Students will:

- Understand basic management functions and apply them to organizational practice.
- Demonstrate ethical reasoning skills.
- Demonstrate the oral and written communication skills necessary for effective leadership.
- Use quantitative data to support organizational decision-making.
- Apply problem-solving skills to accomplish organizational goals.
- Demonstrate the ability to lead and actively participate in diverse teams.
- Analyze the interplay of businesses in the global marketplace.

Careers and Further Study

Graduates of the Managerial Accounting degree are well equipped to work in finance, book-keeping and accounting positions within private, public, profit and non-profit organizations. Additionally, students are prepared for graduate studies in accounting, finance and economics.
